Superb Son of Commando Makes an Impres tion Such as the Lamented Sysonby TIW M His First Start-Costigan a $20,000 Winner on Beggar Maid.

colin is a second Sysonby!" This was he tip that went from mouth to mouth in addock before the second race was run Belmont Park yesterday. "Mr. Keene's is a world beater and he will simply neke this bunch of two-year-olds look like lot of pigs." The sharp eyed fellows who iom miss a trick on the racetrack apparby knew so much about the son of Pastorella that the speculators ared for little else in the race. The wise bing, so that they were averse to taking berties with him. So it was that in spite o the fact that twenty-three young horses sported silk and that Colin had never been een in public before the Keene colt was nened at the extremely liberal odds of 8 to 5. With Miller up, the public, quick to learn he merits of an uncovered two-year-old from Keene barn, proceeded to plunge as i was only a two horse affair between a stake winner and a selling plater. Colin ras soon backed off the boards, the clubhouse commissioners failing to get down a hundle at the last moment. When Cocame out of the paddock it was readily gen that he was a superbly proportioned colt, with all the good qualities of a high class thoroughbred. Bringing up the rear of the long parade to the post, he was the cynosure of all eyes, but there was also much admiraion for another splendid looker, Bar None, a chestnut colt by Nasturtium-Equality ned by H. P. Whitney, Bar None was practically an unknown quantity, however, for he receded in the betting from 8 to 10. King Cobalt was well supported across the boards, while Frank J. Farrell and his friends backed the Mimic colt, James B. Brady, heavily to show. There was some little generally neglected. As the race was run it was simply a question of how good Colin really is. If Miller had let down he would probably have won by a half dozen lengths. He had wonderful speed aving the barrier and took such a commanding lead that the race was all over, as far as he was concerned, before he had covered the first quarter of a mile. His performance reminded some of the critics of the first appearance of the lamented Sysonby as a two ear-old, but whether Colin is in the same class outh the great Melton colt remains to be seen. it any rate, it may be said that Colin is the host two-year-old yet shown by Mr. Keene, and that he will probably be a factor in some of the most important stakes to be run this cetting on Spring Heel, but the others were

Dinna Ken beat Peter Pan, Zambesi beat Finna Ken and Bill Daly's Sailor Boy beat Zambesi to death! Can you beat that?" A rambesi to death! Can you beat that?" A close student of form made this comment in disgust just after the running of the Pocan-Stakes, and followed it up with this de-

It looks to me as if Peter Pan, Dinna Ken and Zambesi were all hounds, as their races pparently show. Peter Pan has quit twice the critical moment. Last year he was ass, while Zambesi and Dinna Ken were maidens. Dinna Ken beat Peter Pan last sturday in a fast mile, but if the Commando olt had been a real racehorse this would have been impossible. Dinna Ken never classed with Arcite as a two-year-old, and I expected the latter to beat the Yankee gelding to-day int as Zambesi had never been talked of in th ame breath with Peter Pan when discussing he Keene horses I could not see where he had a chance in the world to win. The fact hat Sailor Boy ran Zambesi's eyeballs out in three-quarters of a mile at Gravesend on saturday was enough to keep anybody off the seene colt to-day. Either Zambesi is a rank in and outer or the ones that he beat in the Pocantico are of the most inferior quality."

Arcite, the son of Alvescot, with whom George J. Long hoped to win the Brooklyn landicap had the track remained fast, made his first appearance of the season in the Pocantico. Running the reverse way of the track evidently bothered him, for he balked the far turn and lost at least ten lengths If Troyler had been able to keep him close to he rail there is hardly a doubt that Arcite ould have taken the measure of Zambesi, though the latter was going easy at the end. the ring won a bunch on the defeat of Dinna the Millerites, who seem to be in clover Western money. Previous winners of the beantico were Charade, Prince George, St. axim, Volley, Rensselaer, Sly Fox, Ethelert, Missionary, Blues, Dixieline, Rogodor, Spanker, Cairngorm and Inquisitor 'As the three-year-olds shown so far seem have a hard time beating one another, said John E. Madden after the Zambesi win am almost tempted to start Salvidere in the Belmont to-morrow, just to show how such better the son of Belvidere is than those hat will face the gate. But Salvidere has been ailing with a painful tooth, and perhaps it is just as well to let him take it easy for a short ime longer." As the Belmont is worth $25,000. seems hard luck that a tooth should keep Salvidere from winning such a rich prize. The ring lost thousands on the success of Beggar Maid, a Hamburg filly, in the third race. There was some 20 to 1 on tap, but it was chiefly in the nature of a hunch, started by Sol Lichtenstein. Jim Murphy, however, put up the real price, 10 to 1, and was prepared to lay it when Sol's busy relative.

The Counsellor," breezed up and said:

"Betcher two hundred at twenty?" friends," replied Murphy. "If you want to bet me you can get on at ten!"
Tom Costigan, who has had a lot of good things lately, played Beggar Maid all over the ring and cleaned up more than $20,000 on the result. Frederick Johnson was also good winner, while nearly all the players in the clubhouse accepted the tip. The Sullivans played both Ace High and Royal Lady the latter being practically left at the post. Tony Aste had a supposed good thing in Herman, backed from 20 to 10. But what was the matter with The Wrestler, the favorite n this event? He opened at 8 to 5, but the nore the public bet on him the more the layers unched the price. He went up to 4 to 1, with as much as even money third at the close the wise men keeping off with remarkable fortitude. Then The Wrestler, with John Hennessy on his back, trailed home so far back in the ruck that his backers felt sure that they had received the rawest kind of the Judges at Mineola. The dog show of the Ladies Kennel Association of America on the Fair Grounds at Mineola ended yesterday and the closing day was as interesting and successful as the opening day. The attendance was large all day, champions met champions in the ring and several important special classes had to be settled by the judges.

The most important events judged were what were called the variety classes. The judges were G. Muss-Arnolt and H. W. Lacy. The first of these classes was for sporting dogs and bitches, any breed except terriers champions barred. This brought together the beagles Windholme's Bartender and Wind-Climax. the greyhound Tioronda the beagies Windholme's Bartender and Windholme's Climax. the greyhound Tioronda Rainart, the field spaniel Saybrook Sheffield and the English setter Bella Roderigo, all good winners. In each of these variety classes the prizes were $20 for first, $10 for second, $5 for third and $3 for fourth. Windholme's Climax won first and Saybrook Shefield second.

In sporting dogs, braces, Joe Lewis won with his English setters Mallwyd Rock and Mallwyd Countess. For non-sporting dogs the first prize went to Charles G. Hopton's buildogs Champion Rodney Dauntless and Champion Rodney Asthore. The best brace of American bred were W. Rutherfurd's fox terriers Warren Blue Blood and Warren Remedy. Mr. Rutherfurd won again in the team class with his fox terriers. The Rowsley Kennels' wire haired fox terriers were second, and Mrs. O. H. P. Beimont's French buildogs third. Mr. Rutherfurd won the prize for the American bred team with his fox terriers, and the Windholme Kennels' beagles were second. The best stud dog in the show was the poodle Sinbad the Sailor, owned by the Red Brook Kennels. The kennel mate of Sinbad the Sailor, Champion Meluan, was chosen as the best brood bitch.

The class for dogs there was a very contrasting collection. There was the famous been beaten: Endeliffe Prevent, a fox terrier of renown; Robino II., a crack beagle; Beautiful Billy, a well known Pomeranian; Rockliffe Runaway, a Dalmatian; King Edward, a shaggy English sheep dog, and Fosco, a little Boston terrier. The judges gave the prizes to the first four in the order named. The class for bitches brought out just as interesting a collection, and again Mr. Rutherfurd was successful, winning with Warren Remedy.

Mrs. Senn's Yorkshire terrier champion Oueen of the Fairies, won the council cup teresting a collection, and again Mr. Rutherfurd was successful, winning with Warren Remedy.

Mrs. Senn's Yorkshire terrier champion Queen of the Fairies, won the council cup for the best dog or bitch, bred and owned by a member and the Ballyhoo Bey cup for the best American bred dog or bitch. The champion challenge cup for the best dog or bitch owned by a member went to Mrs. Reginald F. Mayhew for her Pomeranian champion Fox Hills Dandy.

The Waldheim cup No. 1 for the best dog or bitch under 18 months bred and owned by a member went to Mrs. J. H. Brookfield so or bitch under 18 months bred and owned by a member went to Mrs. J. H. Brookfield also won the team challenge cup with four of her Pomeranians.

The Suffolk county challenge cup for the best stud dog with two of his get went to Sinbad, the Sailor. Two packs of fox hounds were shown in the afternoon by the master and huntsman in hunting costume. The Middleser Hunt. J. Higginson, master, won and the Monmouth Hunt Club, P. F. Collier master, was second.

TO-DAY'S CARD FOR BELMONT. Four Important Stake Events Provide Some

Excellent Sport. A record breaking crowd will probably attend the races at Belmont Park to-day, where one of the most attractive cards of the season is offered. The classic Belmont Stakes, for three-year-olds, one mile and three furlongs, is the feature, in which the Keene entry, Superman and Peter Pan, will probably be played to beat Frank Gill, Paumonok and Hickory. For the Whitney Memorial Steeplechase, at about two miles and a half, Good and Plenty, Grandpa, Palm and T. S. Martin look beet. Gentleman riders will have the mounts in the Amateur Cup, at a mile, with Waterbury, Gallant and Master of Craft figuring well. Suffrage will be the choice for the Claremont Handicap, six and a half furlongs, with Jack Atkin and Charles Edward possible contenders. In a handicap at a mile Tommy Waddell, Zethus, Sailor Boy and Nealon may go well. Two-year-olds will run in the first race at four and a half furlongs, with Youthful, Split Second, Kerry, McGregor and Minnie G. having chances. The entries follow: the season is offered. CHAMPION DOGS IN RING. TWO VICTORIES FOR KEENE

ZAMBESI TAKES THE POCANTICO IN SURPRISING STYLE.

Beats Arcite and Dinna Ken in a Galley -Colin, a Sen of Commande, Also Scores in the Popular Colors-Adorstion, Ontario and Beggar Maid Win.

Students of form received a shock when the Pocantico Stakes, for three-year-olds, one mile and a sixteenth, was run at Belmont Park yesterday. Because of his victory over Peter Pan in the Carlton Stakes at Graves end last Saturday H. P. Whitney's Dinna Ken was made a 7 to 10 favorite over G. L. Long's Arcite, 6 to 2; James R. Keene's Zambesi, 6 to 1, and Eugene Wayland's Ampedo, 20. As Zambesi had been run off his feet in a previous race by Bill Daly's Sailor Boy he was not regarded seriously, but Miller took him to the front, and the Commando colt remained there to the end, winning in a gallop by four lengths in 1:45. After bolting on the far turn and coming very wide into the homestretch Arcite closed with a powerful rush and took the place by a nose from Dinna Ken, who was rather poorly ridden throughout. The latter was under a hard irive to keep Ampedo out of third money.

Mr. Keene uncovered a star two-year-old in Colin, a son of Commando—Pastorella, in the second race, in which there were twentythree starers. Colin opened at 8 to 5, but was literally backed off the boards. When the barrier went up Miller broke Colin off in front and he left the big field in a jiffy. He wanted to run so much that Miller took him up, the colt breezing home two lengths in front of H. P. Whitney's Bar None, a colt by asturtium, 10 to 1. Eight lengths R. L. Thomas's Harcourt, 20 to 1, took third

R. L. Thomas's Harcourt, 20 to 1, took third

Miller made all the pace with R. T. Wilson,

a handicap, at six furlongs, the Ornament filly winning easily by a length and a half from Pretension, the top weight and 11 to 5 favorite, who had the same margin over august Belmont's Smilling Tom, backed down to 9 to 2. The latter beat Sir Toddington, 16 to 5, a head. The time was 1.13 3-5.

A killing went over the plate when Beggar Maid, backed from 20 to 8, ran away from a big field in the third race, for three-yearolds, six furlongs, straight, and galloped home eight lengths in front of Rosemount, 8 to 1. The latter was driven into the place half a length in front of Woodwitch, 20 to 1.
The Wrestler, 2 to 1 favorite, was disgracefully beaten. The time was 1.14.

Ontario, 20 to 1, won the fifth race, for platers, at seven furlongs, main track, by a length from Topsy Robinson, 3 to 1 favorite.
Ontario made all the pace, while Robinson, with Miller up, was always the contender.
John Smulski, 8 to 1, was two lengths away,

Duryea's Mintberia, backed from 8 to 5 to 13 to 10. Woodford Clay's Orange and Blue, who receded from 3 to 5 to even money, could not get out of her own way in spite of Miller's efforts. The mile was run in 1:41. Five favorites were beaten, but nearly all the winners were well backed. The attendance was 15,000. The summaries:

Navaje Tries to Vault Over Among Spectaters-Sweet Marie a Hustler.

PHILADELPHIA, May 29 .- To the rail birds the high jump was the real thing at the horse show to-day. The rest of the programme, with the exception of the exhibition by Swee Marie, was of the every day sort. But in the entered, the interest took on a more porsonal turn, especially when Navajo, the fullblooded brown gelding of the Westchester Farms, took it into his head to try to vault over the rail separating the spectators from the tan-He tried it no less than three times, but except upsetting his rider he did not accomplish the object he may have had in

The contest narrowed down to a test of ability among Onerious, Crackerjack, Na-vajo and Pindar from a field of thirteen The first four horses finished as named. Operious having the blue ribbon pinned on his head before leaving the ring pinned on his head before leaving the ring. He cleared the bars in a manner which did not leave the slightest doubt in the minds of the judges.

Sweet Marie's exhibition lasted only about ten minutes, but during that time the followers of the horse had ample time to see the greatest of trotting mares in the world perform. Driven by George Webb and paced by a running horse, the mare swept around the track with a motion that impressed the spectators. It was something out of the ordinary for the horse show, but it proved to be a delightful diversion from the constant judging of ponies, hackneys and the constant judging of ponies, hackneys and horses.

E. T. Stotesbury, owner of the mare, went to considerable expense to exhibit the horse. She was brought down from Poughkeepsie in the morning, trotted in the afternoon and was shipped back again before some of the spectators had left the show. She is trotting in New York State, and to exhibit her here required some mighty hustling on the part of the owner and trainer. After the exhibition a silver cup was presented to Webb.

BOSTON, May 29 .- Miss Margaret Curtis and Miss Fanny C. Osgood were the winners in the semi-final of the Boston Women's Golf Association championship at the Country Club this morning. Miss Curtis won her place by defeating Miss M. E. Adams, 3 up and 2 to play. Miss Curtis won on the six-teenth green by holing a twenty-five foot put for a 3 after Miss Adams had laid her call dead for a four. Miss Curtis was one down to Miss Adams at the turn. Miss Osgood was 3 up at the turn in her match with Miss Dutton, winning finally 2 up and 1 to play. She went out in 44, while Miss Dutton took 47. in the semi-final of the Boston Women's Golf

THE PHILADELPHIAS. Chicagos Do Not Play and the Two Teams Are Side by Side-Brooklyns Again in Stugging Mood in Boston-Reds

Make a Rum and Blank the Cardinals. The New Yorks and Chicagos are again side by side and these two are making a hot race for first honors in the National League. The Chicagos were idle yesterday, but not the New Yorks. The latter were so busy they buried the Philadelphias under fifteen runs. The Brooklyns kept up their hard hitting and heat the Bostons again, and the Cincinnation vanquished the St. Louis Cardinals with one run. The results:

New YORK (N. L.); 15; PHILADELPHIA (N. L.), 1.

The Quaker system was all awry yesterday at the Polo Grounds, while the Knickerbocker plan of action was very productive. The New Yorks made fifteen runs and the Philadelphias one, this being one of the heaviest trouncings one big league team has inflicted on another this season. The New Yorks scored in every inning except the first, and their batting was not only furious but markedly influential.

Not one of the hits made by the New Yorks was thrown away. Every one of the fourteen drives of divers dimensions had a direct bearing on run making, and, what is more, only four of the safe hitters were left on bases. On Tuesday McGraw was bemoaning the fact that his men were getting on often, but not getting in. They found the answer yesterday.

But while the New Yorks were a raging torrent in hitting and scoring, the Phillies were a sluggish and shallow stream. They played like children, letting easy fity balls fall safely and allowing base stealing by the wholesale, either through poor throwing or slow handling in putting the ball on the runner. Men were dodging under Kid Gleason—at least so Umpire Carpenter said—all afternoon, Almost anybody that slid was safe, according to the Carpenter viewpoint. The game finally became tiresome. Pittinger was taken out of the box because he was batted out: McGinnity, after pitching well, retired to private life because the game was on ice, and any old pitcher could have continued to hold the Quakers safe the way they were playing. McGann located the bullseye early and batted in two runs with a three bagger in the second inning. Two runs rode in on Sammy Strang's home run in the third inning.

The New Yorks herded four counts to the plate in the fourth inning. Courtney made a low throw to first, Jacklitsch made a high throw to second base, Corcoran, McGinnity and Devlin bounded breezingly from base to base Quite unhampered by the weak efforts of the Quakers to prevent them stealing.

A pitched ball hurt Bowerman in the fifth innin

McGinnity, Shannon and Devin bounded breezingly from base to base quite unhampered by the weak efforts of the Quakers to prevent them stealing.

A pitched ball hurt Bowerman in the fifth inning and sent him to the bench. Hannifin took Bowerman's place in the heatting order and Dahlen's place in the heatting order and Strang, having been good little boys, were allowed to retire and spend the rest of the afternoon looking at their picture books. Fitzgerald went in to catch and took Dahlen's place in the batting order. While the other New Yorks were two stepping and waltzing and schottisching around the bases, Fitz was the only one who did not get on or make a hit.

Hannifin slammed home a couple of runs in the sixth with a freakish three bagger. The ball bounded foul after passing third base and took an unnatural angle from the fence, the u. a. permitting Hannifin to annex an extra base. Corcoran, Taylor, Browne, Seymour and McGann were the battists who figured in New York's remaining runs.

Devlin made a hit in the fourth inning which went straght up in the sir and fell safely between Courtney, Jacklitsch and Pittenger. One man from third and another from second came in on the absurd error of omission. By good running Browne transformed a short Texas Leaguer into a two base hit in the eighth inning. Bresnahan was to have gone behind the bat when Bowerman went out, but O'Day would not let him. Bresnahan had been announced to catch at the beginning of the game, but McGraw sent Bowerman in instead. This, said O'Day, was equivalent to Bresnahan's having been in the game once, and he could not go in again. The score:

More than a score of cars have been entered for the two day endurance run which the Long Island Automobile Club of Brooklyn is to conduct to-day and to-morrow from its clubhouse in Cumberland street, to Green-port. L. I., and return. The cars are divided into three classes, Class A being for machines costing up to $1,500, which must average twelve miles an hour on the road Class B, for machines costing from $1,500 $3,000, which must average fifteen miles an hour, and Class C. for machines costing more than $3,000, which will be required to average eighteen miles an hour. Trophies have been offered for the winner in each class, and in addition there are prizes for the best Long Island Automobile Club teur driver, and another for the dealer or agent making the best score.

The run to-day will be through Highland Park, Glendale, Flushing, Manhasset. Roaly Glen Cove, Locust Valley, Oyster Bay, Cold. Spring Harbor, Huntington, Northport, Stoay Brook, Setauket to Port Jefferson, where the noon control will be located. Jefferson the route leads through Wading River, Riverhead, Greenport, Orient Point and back to Greenport, where the night will be spent. The trip to-morrow will be from Greenport through Riverhead, East guogue. Good Ground, Southampton, Bridgehampton, back to Southampton, to Shinnerock Inn. which will be the noon control. Leaving the Inn, the drivers will go back to Good Ground. then through Quogue, Eastport, /entre Mo-riches. Patchogue, Sayville, Vay Shore, Babylon, Amityville, Freeport, and Lynbrook back to Brooklyn.

The distance to be travelled \(\psi_{-} \text{day will be} \) 139 miles, and to-morrow it will be 154.6 miles The cars entered up to yesterday noon included two Aerocars, two Welches and one each of Thomas, Matheson, Whton, Franklin, Haynes, Packard, De Luxe, columbia, Pope-Toledo, Pierce, Cadillac, Pope Hartford, Maxwell, Dolson, Queen, Oldsmobile, Mora and Holsman

Gen. John T. Cutting hasinvited the public to attend the races which are to be held this afternoon at the Empire dity track in connection with the Oldsmobile reunion. In addition to the contests between stock cars there will be an attempt on the middleweight class records by Cedrino with he Fiat Junior. It is expected that about 30 cars will take part in the parade from Broadway and Fifty-first street up Fifth avenue to the track, the parade to be formed on Fift-second street east of Broadway at 10 o'cock this morning. No cards of admission to the track will be required.

J. S. Marvin, traffic manager of the Asso-ciation of LicensedAutomobile Manufacturers, returned to his office yesterday after attending the joint conference of the Southeastern Freight Association and Southeastern Missis-Freight Association and Southeastern Mississippi Valley Association. Mr. Marvin-spent two weeks on his trip and reports that freight conditions in the South are in a satisfactory condition. It has been Mr. Marvin's aim to work with the fraffic managers and help them arrange the fransportation of automobilea to afford better facilities for the manufacturers. The conditions which prevaled in the far West have not materially changed, many of the foast dealers still being held up in the delivery of cars. Conditions in the East are mich better, however, as the railroads seem to reakize the necessity of immediate action in the transportation of automobiles by building special freight cars to give better shipping facilities to manu-

to give litter shipping facilities to manufacturers,

Mr. Marvin thinks the outlook for the transponation of automobiles next year will be ferly much better, as by the time the 1908 models are ready for shipment the railroads kill have completed the extra cars which are now being constructed. It is which are now being constructed. It is estimated that between 3,000 and 4,000 cars are now under way, which, added to the 6,000 already in service, will give automobile shippers better facilities than they have enjayed heretofore.

VILKESBARRE, Pa., May 29.—The Quaker City Motor Club members of Philadelphia who had a club run to this city to view the astomobile hill climbing contest to-morrow strived in this city this evening, having made the run from Philadelphia in eleven hours sithout trying to break any records. This included a stop for dinner. Most of them came by was of Easton and the Delaware Water Gap and over the old Easton turnplee into this city. About one hundred members of the club are here. Other clubs from different parts of the State are also represented as well as several from New York State and some from New England.

There are ninety-six entries, so many that it is estimated the contests will take about ten hours to run. One extra event for steam cars exclusively has been added to the programme, making eleven events in all. The road over which many of the racers were practising to-day is in fise condition. The course is 6,000 feet up Wilkesbarre's mountain, Giant Despair, and it is expected that better than two minutes will be made.

As the result of an argument over the respective speed of their cars between A. Weinberg and Guy Vaughan there is to be a match race between a Packard and a Stearns in the near future. Vaughan is to drive his own Stearns light touring car and Weinberg's Packard runabout is to be driven by a driver selected by W. B. Hurlburt. The distance is to be twenty-five miles and the race will be held at the Empire City track if it be possible to secure the course. It is declared that friends of the two principals have wagered more than $10,000 on the result of the contest.
